

Triumph Bancorp Appoints Renee Galitis as Chief Information Officer

November 22, 2021

DALLAS, Nov. 22, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Triumph Bancorp, Inc. (Nasdaq: TBK) announced today the appointment of Renee Galitis as chief information officer. In her role, Galitis will execute the information technology (IT) strategy driving innovation and operational excellence for the company. She will provide direction and oversight for the IT and information security teams, leading existing and emerging technology initiatives.

"Renee's ability to align operational execution and technology transformation makes her an excellent fit for Triumph," said Aaron P. Graft, chief executive officer. "Her experience leading large, complex projects and technology environments will be instrumental in taking our IT organization to the next level of transformation."

Galitis comes to Triumph with a successful track record of working for high-growth financial service companies. Most recently, she served as EVP, Chief Information Officer with Caliber Home Loans. Prior to Caliber, Galitis was chief technology officer at Black Knight, Inc., which provided integrated technology, data, and analytics to the mortgage and real estate industry. She has also served in several senior management positions at both technology and mortgage firms including Bank of America and Nexstar Financial, a KKR venture capital backed start-up specializing in mortgage process outsourcing and software innovation.

Galitis commented, "I am thrilled to join Triumph and see tremendous opportunity for leveraging enterprise collaboration to drive efficiency and scale. The company has built a strong technology foundation. I am eager to lead in this important area, sharing my experience to deliver stable, secure, and innovative technology services and solutions."
